

Is this how you stay on top of the paperwork in your commercial vehicle business?

Fed up with

- Wasting money having to tell customers you will phone them back because you can't immediately put your hands on vital information
- Boredom of having to manually write out wall planners every year
- Frittering away precious time reminding customers of when service schedules are due
- Monotony of manually writing out job tickets
- Chore of manually updating job tickets with labour, parts and test details
- Stress of gathering job information together for monthly invoicing
- Alarmed at the risk of losing Job Tickets and the associated invoicing
- Exasperated by the thought of lost revenue because parts fitted have not been charged out
- Worry over costly mistakes and omissions hammering cash flow
- Sweating over losing customers and work by not contacting them at the right time
- Frustrated by the time wasted by mechanics doing non-invoice work
- Annoyed by interruptions to answer people's questions, because you're the only person who can answer them
- Hacked off with paperwork
